Terms & Conditions:

- 1. Scope of Work: The developer will develop the application for the client, which includes designing, coding, testing, and launching the application. The application will include the features and functionality as agreed upon by the parties, and will be completed within the timeline and milestones specified in the agreement.
- 2. Payment Terms: The client will pay the company a fixed amount for the application development services. Payment will be made in three installments as follows: 50% upon signing of the agreement, 25% upon completion of the design phase, and 25% upon completion and launch of the application.
- 3. Intellectual Property Rights: The client will own all intellectual property rights in the application, including copyrights, trademarks, and patents. The developer retains no rights to the application or any associated intellectual property.
- 4. Confidentiality: The parties agree to maintain the confidentiality of all information exchanged during the development process, including trade secrets, customer data, and other proprietary information. The parties will not disclose such information to any third party without prior written consent.
- 5. Warranties and Representations: The developer warrants that the application will be of professional quality and free from defects in materials and workmanship. The developer represents that the application does not infringe on the intellectual property rights of any third party.
- 6. Indemnification: The parties agree to indemnify and hold harmless each other from any claims, damages, or expenses arising from the development, use, or operation of the application, including any claims of infringement of intellectual property rights.
- 7. Termination: Either party may terminate the agreement upon written notice if the other party defaults in the performance of its obligations under the agreement, breaches any of the terms and conditions of the agreement, or becomes insolvent.
- 8. Limitation of Liability: The developer's liability for any damages arising from the application development process is limited to the total amount paid by the client for the development services.

AMC Terms& Conditions:

We offer annual maintenance services for your application as per the terms and conditions

Outlined below:

1. The annual maintenance contract (AMC) is valid for a period of one year from the date of signing the contract.
2. The maintenance services cover the following: regular updates, security updates, bug fixing, uptime monitoring, and backup services.
3. The client is responsible for providing all necessary access credentials and information for the application, including FTP details, CMS access, and hosting details.
4. If the client requires any additional work or services outside of the scope of the AMC, a separate quotation will be provided to the client outlining the additional costs.
5. The non-refundable AMC fee is payable after one year of deployment of the application.
6. In the event of an application outage or downtime, we will make every effort to restore it within a reasonable timeframe. However, we cannot be held responsible for any losses or damages arising from such downtime.
7. The client is responsible for ensuring that all content, images, and other materials are updated and maintained. We can provide content updating services as an additional service, subject to additional charges.
8. We reserve the right to terminate the AMC at any time if the client breaches any of these terms and conditions or fails to make payment as outlined in the contract.
9. This AMC does not cover any application redesign or major updates. If the client requires any major updates or redesign work, a separate quotation will be provided.

By signing this contract, the client acknowledges and agrees to these terms and conditions.
